FUNDING FOR VEE VACCINATIONS WILL BE TERMINATED NOVEMBER 1

PORTERVILLE — New restrictions have been set up by the California Department of Agriculture for horse owners who have not vaccinated their animals against Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis, according to Dr. P.L. Smith, chief of the Department's Bureau of Animal Health.

Federal funding to cover the cost of vaccinations will be terminated on November 1, 1971. After this date, horse owners will be responsible for the cost of vaccination against VEE.

Movement of unvaccinated animals will be restricted after October 1, 1971. After this date, no equine may be moved from one place to another within California unless it has been vaccinated.

Effective immediately, vaccinated animals will no longer be restricted to premises for 14 days after vaccination, Dr. Smith added. Continued testing of the vaccine has proven that a quarantine is unnecessary, and that there is no danger involved in moving a vaccinated animal.

Owners of horses and all other equines are urged to vaccinate their animals due to the possibility of spread to humans and other animals. Procedure for getting horses vaccinated is to contact any veterinarian for an appointment.

Dr. Smith reported that approximately 75 percent of an estimated 450,000 horses in California have been vaccinated against VEE to date. Roy Nesbit, state livestock inspector in Porterville, reports that approximately 35,000 animals have been vaccinated in the Porterville area, and approximately 8,000 in Tulare county.

WATERFOWL SEASONS ADOPTED BY STATE FISH AND GAME COMMISSION

SACRAMENTO — California hunters will have 93-day waterfowl seasons for 1971-72 in most areas of the state under regulations adopted recently by the California Fish and Game commission.

A species restriction on ducks states that no more than two canvassbacks may be included in the daily bag and possession limit.

Goose season will coincide with duck season in most areas. In the southern zone, Canada goose hunting will close January 9, and bag limit is restricted to two per day.

General limit will be six geese per day, six in possession, with at least three white geese and no more than three of the dark species.

THE FARM TRIBUNE

Donated material is now being gathered by members of the Porterville Echance club for third annual public auction through which funds will be raised for a free fireworks show on July 4.

We Only Heard - Anything can happen in this Centennial year, we keep saying, and what better proof than the goings on last weekend: Porterville college got back into the football win column in Coach Pat Mills' initial outing by upsetting the really tough Hartnell Panthers, who some had thought might be Little Rose Bowl contenders, and Bill Horst killed a bear on the Porterville City sewer farm...Just which feat of skill and daring was the greatest - the killing of the bear or the dropping of the Panther, is open to question, but each will hold a niche in the history of Porterville's Centennial year.

County's National Forest Allocation Exceeds $12,000

SAN FRANCISCO — Tulare county will receive $12,889 this year from a $11.2 million budget allocated by California's 17 National forests, according to U.S. Regional Forester Doug Leisz, San Francisco.

Leisz said the funds are paid to all California counties annually on the basis of the amount of acreage of National forest land within each county. Tulare county's total National forest acreage is 1,777,147.

Elias Howe received a patent for the sewing machine in 1846.

State Senator J. Howard Williams, who has been recuperating at his Porterville home following surgery in San Francisco, has announced that he will greet his friends and constituents from a booth at the Tulare County fair.

"HOLE IN THE GROUND" PRESENTED TO BAKERSFIELD STATE COLLEGE

BAKERSFIELD — The Earth Science Department at Cal State Bakersfield has received a unique gift - a hole in the ground. This is no ordinary hole, however, as it is cased with high-quality steel casing and is completed with a surface installation designed for instruction in hydrology.

The Roscoe Moss company, a California manufacturer of water well casing, presented the well to the college as a teaching aid in the Earth Science courses.

The well, 210 feet deep, will allow students to observe and measure changes in ground water levels beneath the campus. As a teaching aid, the well is ideal for instruction in the various methods of measuring ground water levels and for obtaining a continuous record of water level fluctuations beneath the campus.

In addition, the location of the new well, about 100 feet from a large irrigation well, will permit students to run experimental pumping tests and record the drawdown data in their own well.

These are some of the potential uses that students will find for using their well in the new "inquiry" type of science courses being given at the college.

Around 25% of all ground water pumped in the United States is pumped from the more than 50,000 wells now active in the San Joaquin valley.

Electricity is vital to your way of life.
So is a healthy environment.
We're working to bring you both.

The marine environment.

Research reveals no significant changes near the San Onofre nuclear plant.

At the San Onofre nuclear power plant, located near San Clemente, sea water is used to cool the plant condensers, and then the warmed water is returned to the sea.

To determine whether this harms the marine environment, Edison commissioned an oceanographic company of national stature to monitor the offshore waters both before and after the plant was built. Monitoring began in mid-1963 — four-and-a-half years before the plant commenced commercial operation — and has continued ever since.

Result: twenty-one reports to date reveal no significant changes in the marine environment. And that includes three years of plant operation.

In addition, the California State Department of Fish and Game made its own study of the same marine area in 1969. The Department concluded that the nuclear unit's operation did not appear to have had an adverse effect on the near-shore marine environment.

Aside from warm water, some people may be concerned about radiation from nuclear power plants. Actually, natural background radiation is everywhere and always has been. It comes from the air you breathe, the food you eat, the materials used to build your home. The San Onofre nuclear power plant is a source of some radiation, too.

The question is, how much?

The answer: so little that an elaborate monitoring program of the land, air and offshore waters near San Onofre has established that the amount is insignificant compared with natural background radiation. Far less, for example, than the additional amount received by moving from a wood to a stone or concrete home or apartment house.

Based on these and other facts, we believe nuclear plants are a safe and sensible way to generate electricity. Clean, too. Since there's no combustion in a nuclear reactor, no by-products of combustion are released into the atmosphere.

At Edison, we plan to rely more and more on nuclear power to meet the growing need for electricity in the 14-county area we serve.

OUR TOWN

By Ruth Loyd

Ralph Baeza and Tony Buelna were resting for a moment watching the ducks in the park. We were "cycling" thru the level part of the park. We have seen the boys down town, jogging. By the time we caught up to them, they had jogged out to the Rocky Hill Track and back. They average about ten miles a day, and it made my poor legs tired just looking at them. They belong to the cross country team, at the high school. I wonder if their instructor, Howard Clark, jogs ten miles each day also. I tried a little jogging across our living room. No way. I'll stick to my trusty cycle.

Two little boys were playing cowboys and Indians out on the playground. "Shooting" at each other with baseball bats. Pow-pow, you're dead. One little boy ran up to the teacher, and in great indignation said, "Mrs. Marks, I shot that guy and he won't die" I don't know. There's a moral there, somewhere.

Henry and Rita Foley toured Europe this summer with an education group. On most European tours, you drive long hours each day, and when you come to a stop, everyone dashes for the restroom. The Foleys arrived in Colonge, and the usual stampede for the restrooms. In Colonge it costs 20 phennigs to use the facility, and the woman in the restroom stood guard to see that she was paid. Rita only had 10 phennigs and she was in a hurry. She gave the woman her change, and rushed in. The woman had a fit. She started to scream and yell for help. A man rushed in to help her, to throw poor Rita out. Finally a tour companion came to Rita's rescue with the extra change. To the relief of everyone. From then on, everyone on the tour made sure they had the exact change to pay the dragons in the restrooms. Henry Foley had a more harrowing experience along the same lines, but you better ask him to tell you that story. He might sue me.

I had an awful time keeping my copper tea kettle looking nice and copper color. Finally, I cleaned it, and sprayed it with Oven Guard. It stayed a beautiful luster for a long time. Maybe the copper will peel off, but up until then, it is lovely.

Golf has started again, thanks to the cooler weather. At our first meeting, we had a guest from Lompoc. Jean Martin is a past president of OUR GOLF ASSOCIATION, and she was nearly mobbed when she came into the meeting. Her husband, John, is a past president of Rotary, and he attended their meeting while we enjoyed Jean. Roscoe and Auleanna Sparks are good golf friends of the Martins, and when they go to Lompoc they play the beautiful Black Lake Course. One of California's most beautiful courses.

Happiness is a small town. Let's keep OUR TOWN a SMALL TOWN.

California taxonomists have identified 39,201 different kinds of insect species in the state during 1970.

First English warships were built by Anglo-Saxon King Alfred at Portsmouth in 897.

TICKET DRAWING for this 1971 Cricket will be Veterans Day, October 25 at the Porterville Post 20 American Legion hall. C.A. Kennedy, left, of Porterville is shown purchasing a drawing ticket from Post 20 Finance Officer Sam Creeks. Queen of the Veterans Day Homecoming celebration, to be selected Monday, October 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Porterville Memorial auditorium, will perform the October 25 drawing. Two halves of beef will also be given away at the drawing. American Legion posts in Lindsay and Terra Bella, and the Veterans Club at Porterville college are also selling tickets for the drawing. Donations of $1.00 per ticket are requested. Veterans Day Homecoming committee, comprised of Porterville Post 20 American Legion members and Porterville Veterans of Foreign Wars, is sponsoring the October 25 parade and festivities.

MOTORCYCLE SCRAMBLES SET FOR FRIDAY AT GOLDEN JUBILEE FAIR

TULARE — Action and thrills will be the order of the evening when top motorcycle riders compete for championship points in Sportsmen TT Scrambles that will highlight the September 24 program of Tulare County's Golden Jubilee fair now in progress.

Running in the open expert class will be Carroll Jackson, of Visalia, currently ranked number one in point standing; Darrell McCaulley, of Porterville, second in points; and Jim McCracken, of Fresno, third in official standings.

In the 250cc expert class, Ron Keener, of Visalia, will be defending his number one point standing; Ron Toby, of Bakersfield, will be riding from his number two spot; and Mike Keener, of Visalia, will be defending the number three point position.

Competing in the 125cc expert class will be Kyle Leslie, of McFarland, currently ranked at the top in point standing; Curt Lang, of Tulare, who the number two spot; and Jack Jones, of Visalia, now in the number three spot.

PC STUDENTS WILL RECEIVE EOG GRANTS

PORTERVILLE — Congressman Bob Mathias recently announced that Porterville college has been awarded $1,991 from the U.S. Office of Education to provide financial assistance to three students under the Educational Opportunity Grants program. Educational Opportunity grants are awarded by participating schools to students of exceptional financial need.

DAIRY JUDGING TODAY AT NOON

TULARE — Showing and judging of grade cows in the open class dairy show at Tulare County Fair will start today, September 23, at noon in the fair grounds dairy ring. Dairy competition will be divided into two separate classes this year, one for first and second calf heifers and one for cows that have had three or more calves.

A sight for sore eyes.

Besides your eyes, this bus does your nose a favor. Because, along with the smoke, the smell is gone.

It's the first stage of a test.

Together with the Gas Company and the Air Pollution Control District, the RTD is testing clean-burning natural gas as a bus fuel. If things work out, there may be many more natural gas buses. And less smog.

The RTD is the first bus line in the country to test natural gas this way.

At the Gas Company, we're glad to help. Not just to promote gas. But because we live here.

In spite of dock strikes, high winds, and the general state of the world we are now receiving imported bulbs from all parts of the earth. How they get here we know not but somehow they do and we're most happy to receive them. Especially as it is time to start planting most varieties in order to have a beautiful spring garden.

Recent arrivals from overseas are parrot tulips, rock garden tulips, and the regular tulip varieties. Many people have been waiting for the rock garden tulips because they are short and colorful. We hope you'll be kind to your gophers and plant a few of these.

Other bulbs in stock include Daffodils, Crocus, Hyacinth, Dutch Iris, Freesia, Sparaxis, Ranunculus, and a whole bunch of related vegetables that only seeing could describe. These all fit nicely into the ground with only a minimum of work on your part. Just dig a small hole throw a little bone meal in the bottom, mix well, and drop the bulb in. We would be glad to tell you which end of the bulb goes down.

Rye grass is now on sale to sow over your bermuda for a green winter lawn. You may also purchase seed to fill in your bare spots or for starting a new lawn. Come by anytime on "E" St. North of Olive.
